

Abstract

The paper discusses the background research, collected results and the conclusion.

Background Research:

This section looks at the available research that has been conducted surrounding .

Results

This section outlines the results of the research.

Conclusion

The results of the research are presented in this section.

Future Directions

This section outlines potential avenues to pursue in the future.